NOTE:

Released April 2018

This measurement standard applies to all intact animals, live or deceased. Skulls may be measured using the end of the horn cap in place of the hairline reference point, provided the horn cap has not receded. All skulls must be measured by no less than two members of the WWA Measurement Committee to obtain an "Official Score", whereas intact animals require only one. A WWA Official Horn Measurement Representative must perform the measurement to be recorded with the WWA as an "Official Score." For any horn measurement questions, please contact an Official Horn Measurement Representative.

An "Official Score" cannot be recorded by the animal's owner, or by anyone of the same entity.
